San Antonio Orphans' Home
Burns; Mother Superior Gives
Her Life for Babe

5 NUNS WENT TO DEATH
TO SAVE THEIR CHARGES

Others Heroically Forced Little Ones to Safety Before the Building Collapsed

SANTA ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 30.—Five sisters, two children and two women servants were killed today, either by burning to death or by jumping from the building when fire destroyed St. John's Orphan Asylum.

The fire started at four this morning and spread rapidly. The children were cut off from the fire escapes and there was a wild rush for the stairways and windows, the sisters heroically attempting to save their charges.

Mother Mary, sister superior of the institution, died at her post. Five other nuns bravely went to death that their charges might live. At noon the bodies of three nuns and those of the dead children were still unrecovered.

The mother superior was standing outside of the structure when she heard a baby's cry. She rushed into the building and was later seen with the child at a window. A ladder was at once erected but Mother Mary and the baby fell back into the flames. The nuns forced the children to jump into life nets, entirely oblivious of their own danger. More than a score escaped in this way. As the last of the children left the burning building collapsed.

SHERMAN NOW FACES DEATH

Grows Weaker and Heart Action Shows End is Near—
Wife Waits Near by

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 30.—At 3 o'clock Mr. Sherman was alive, but sinking rapidly. His heart action indicated that end was not far off. Mrs. Sherman waited in an adjoining room.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Vice President Sherman is unconscious this afternoon. Death may occur at any moment. The last hope of recovery was shattered when his kidneys failed to respond to treatment.

The doctors had privately abandoned all hope for Sherman's recovery, but in speaking for publication they have asserted that he may recover. His condition was practically unchanged early today after a fairly quiet night, but it was believed death might come at any time.

Very Weak at Midnight.—Vice President Sherman was weaker at midnight last night. Dr. Peck feared that that his patient could not survive more than forty-eight hours.

While it was believed that the end might come within twenty-four or forty-eight hours or the sufferer might survive a week, his case apparently is hopeless and the end, it appeared, could not be deferred for long. Hypodermic injections were resorted to by his physicians to relieve his sufferings.

F. Robertson, manager of the steamship department of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank.

The new lines will be placed in the European service until the completion of the Panama Canal, after which they will make Los Angeles a port of call.

ELECTRIC CHAIR FINISH CHARTER WAITS FOR BECKER AND PUT IT ON FILE

Justice Goff Today Sentenced
Lieut. Becker to Death in Week of Dec. 9

BECKER STOICAL, BUT
NEWS PROSTRATED WIFE

Official Hurried to Sing Sing—
Appeal Filed Will Act as Stay of Execution

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Police Lieutenant Charles Becker was sentenced to death in the electric chair during the week of December 9 by Justice Goff today, for instigating the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal. Sheriff Harburger announced that he would start immediately for Sing Sing, Mrs. Becker will accompany her husband to the door of the death cell.

Becker was found guilty of first degree murder on Friday last after the jury had been out eight hours. Becker showed no emotion when the death sentence was passed. His wife, however, who waited in the sheriff's office, collapsed when she heard the news.

A motion by Attorney Hart to set the verdict aside was denied, also a motion to arrest judgment. Defense Attorney McIntyre, who was unable to attend the trial, being confined at home, is heartbroken because of the outcome of the trial.

Sheriff Harburger refused Justice Goff's suggestion to keep Becker in the Tombs ten days, and rushed him immediately to Sing Sing.

The defense has filed notice of appeal, which automatically acts as a stay of execution.

This identification will make Shapiro the principal witness against the four gunmen at their trial.

From the four yesterday came a statement that under no circumstances would they plead guilty and a further protestation of their combined innocence.

MRS. CLEVELAND TO
WED PRINCETON MAN

Engagement of Ex-President's Widow to Prof. Preston is Announced

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The announcement of the engagement of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, widow of the late president of the United States, to Professor Thomas J. Preston, Jr., of Wells College, was made last night by President Hibben of Princeton University, a mutual friend of Mrs. Cleveland and Professor Preston. The date of the wedding will be announced later.

Professor Preston first met Mrs. Cleveland at Princeton, where he was taking a special course in 1906. He went out into the society of the university town a great deal. Later a mutual interest attracted them to each other, for Professor Preston took the chair of archaeology at Wells College, Mrs. Cleveland's alma mater, in which she has always been greatly interested.

Ex-President Cleveland died on June 24, 1908, at his home in Princeton, after a long illness.

Mrs. Cleveland is forty-eight, two years younger than Professor Preston, who is fifty. She was born July 21, 1864. Professor Preston did not enter Princeton until he was forty years old, because sickness in his youth had caused him to give up hope of completing his education. He was, however, very popular with the students despite the difference in age.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—The Hollenbeck hotel, one of the landmarks of Los Angeles and erected by one of the famous pioneers of the Southwest as a monument to his memory, changed ownership, but not hands, yesterday morning. John S. Mitchell, for the past ten years manager and vice-president of the company, purchased the controlling interest from A. C. Blicke for a sum approximating $200,000.

Immediate improvements in the hotel are planned. At least $75,000 will be spent in installing new elevators, in enlarging the lobby and building a Mezzanine floor, providing new furniture and equipment and bringing the hotel as nearly down to the minute as the building will permit.

HOLLENBECK HOTEL SOLD
TO JOHN S. MITCHELL

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—The grand jury yesterday returned its second indictment against Marshall Black, charging him with appropriating $500 of the funds of the Palo Alto Mutual Building and Loan Association for his own personal use. Black will be arraigned November 1.

At 2 o'clock today John McFadden, chairman of the board of freeholders, filed the proposed new city charter. The freeholders completed their work last night, signed the charter, and instructed their chairman to turn it over to City Clerk Burke today.

The provisions of the charter in general have been reported through the newspapers. The charter provides for a modified commission form of government. It proposes to have a mayor with a salary of $1800 per year; a clerk, with a salary of $1600; four commissioners, with $600 a year each as salary as commissioners with not over $10 a month additional as school trustees. These are the six elective officers. All others will be appointive by the commissioners.

The charter was drawn up along the lines of the Berkeley charter, many minor changes being made to fit local conditions.

The charter was framed by the fifteen men elected four months ago. They are John McFadden, Charles F. Heil, C. S. Crookshank, W. C. Roberts, John Cubbon, E. B. Smith, G. S. Smith, R. J. Thompson, L. J. Carden, S. H. Finley, J. G. Quick, Herbert P. Rankin, Dr. J. M. Burlew, F. L. Andrews and W. B. Tedford.

The freeholders had 120 days in which to prepare the charter, and file it. Tomorrow will be 120 days from the day of election. The charter must be published, and after that the city trustees must call an election at which the voters of the city shall determine whether or not it shall be adopted. The freeholders worked without compensation. The charter is to go into effect next April. The officers to be elected under the charter will take the places of the present city administration. The next legislature is to be asked to ratify the charter. It is generally understood that getting a charter ratified by the legislature is a perfunctory matter.

The work of the board of freeholders was finished last night with an oyster supper at the Dragon, the host being the freeholder who had missed the most meetings of the board. The lot of host fell to C. F. Heil.

OYSTER BAY, Oct. 30.—William J. Burns, the detective, took luncheon with Roosevelt today. He will act as the colonel's personal guard en route to make his Madison Square speech tonight. The Progressives have engaged Burns detectives to guard Roosevelt when he visits the polls Tuesday.

It was announced today that former District Attorney Jerome of New York had been retained by the Progressives to prosecute any persons accused of ballot frauds on Tuesday. Roosevelt said:

"We intend to prosecute all frauds to the limit. We will not tolerate any repetition of what took place at the spring primaries. Those attempting frauds will have to deal with Burns detectives. In Burns we have the best available man to prevent illegal voting."

The colonel felt fine today.

LABORITES FACE SECOND TRIAL IF ACQUITTED NOW

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—An indication was given by Federal District Attorney Charles Miller today that if the forty-seven union leaders should be acquitted of the charge of transporting dynamite, they will have to stand trial on other charges. The prosecutor refused to give one of the famous electric clocks to a friend as a souvenir. He said the evidence must be kept as the men would probably be tried in the State courts for malicious destruction of property and similar offenses.

FACE LIFE BOLDLY
"Let us therefore boldly face the life of strife, resolute to do our duty well and manfully; resolute to uphold righteousness by deed and word; resolute to be both honest and brave, to serve high ideals, yet to use practical methods."

"Above all, let us shrink from no strife, moral or physical, within or without the nation, provided we are certain that the strife is justified, for it is only through strife, through hard and dangerous endeavor, that we shall ultimately win the goal of true national happiness."—Theodore Roosevelt.

Adrianople Attack Waits Until
up Bulgar Forces

VIENNA, Oct. 30.—With only occasional dispatches seeping through, the interest is intense today in the great struggle between Turks and Bulgarians along the Erkene river, which is believed to be vital in the Balkan war. Enough news has reached Vienna to make certain that battle is being desperately waged along the whole line of contact. The fate of Constantinople hangs in the balance. If the Bulgarians are victorious it is thought the question of intervention will arise with the peril of a general European war.

Constantinople dispatches from General Nazim Pasha to the government tonight state that a great battle with the Bulgarians began this morning west of Lule Burgas. More than one hundred and fifty thousand men are engaged.

Reports reached here tonight that the Turks are winning in a big battle on the Erkene river and Austrian officials believe the tide of battle has at last turned in favor of the Sultan. Other dispatches state that Montenegrin, Greek and Serbian victories are continuing but the Serbians must reinforce the Bulgarians before Adrianople, thus weakening the forces in Albania and Macedonia.

Bulgarians Defeated

It was reported that General Nazim Pasha's main Turkish army is engaging the Bulgarians west of Lule Burgas. Government dispatches say the Bulgarians are retreating, but this is unconfirmed.

WAR LOSSES HAVE BEEN GREAT

BUDAPEST, Oct. 30.—Belgrade dispatches admit that four thousand Serbians have been killed and seven thousand wounded so far. Military men believe the losses are easily twice this number. The Bulgarian losses are estimated at twenty-five thousand.

KIAMIL PASHA SUCCEEDS AS GRAND VIZIER—WILL PUSH WAR

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 30.—Succeeding Chasi Mukhtar Pasha, resigned, Kiamil Pasha today assumed the office of Grand Vizier. He received orders from the Sultan to prosecute the war against the Balkan States with all possible energy.

It was reported that General Nazim Pasha's main Turkish army is engaging the Bulgarians west of Lule Burgas. Government dispatches say the Bulgarians are retreating, but this is unconfirmed.

IS ROOM FOR MORE PLANTS

Sugar Factory Man Says Orange County Has More Acreage for Sugar Beets

ANAHEIM, Oct. 30.—"There is room for more factories in Orange county, plenty of it," declared M. P. Douthett, assistant field manager with the Co-Operative Sugar Company of Santa Ana, while in this city yesterday. "Every factory in the county is finding more beets on hand than expected this season. The tonnage is running away beyond the early expectations, while the high percentage of sugar attained in the beets is the marvel of the sugar world.

"Thousands of acres more than signed up for next year. Another 10,000-ton factory would have no trouble at all in starting in right now and signing up all the acreage it needed for next year, and that without crippling a single one of the present five factories that are already in Orange county.

"A tour of all the factories of the county reveals generally good conditions. All are pretty well up with their beets and operating smoothly, better than they had expected to."

H. S. Hadsall of Los Angeles was here also to discuss the proposed sewer system which is demanded of the Anaheim Sugar Company that it build to convey its waste water to the ocean. The demand is made by twenty-five property owners in the vicinity of the factory who intend to start legal action if their terms are not met. It has not yet been decided just what steps the sugar company will take. There is some talk of moving the local factory to Clearwater in the event that the sewer construction could be forced, for it is said that the factory can be dismantled and moved to the new location at less cost than the proposed sewer can be constructed, and that at the new location assurance can be secured that there will be no interference with the company. Should this course be decided upon, action will doubtless be taken soon after the present sugar campaign closes.

Meantime a movement is under way on the part of the business men of this city not interested directly in the present disagreement to bring about a compromise that will be acceptable on both sides. Further interest may be added by a proposition which is said to be pending from another sugar-making concern to take over the present factory and establish a new plant there.

REALTY DEAL BACK OF SUIT

Man Not Satisfied With Trade Has Brought an Action in Court

William H. Chormicle, S. V. Poston and J. S. May, well known in Santa Ana, are concerned in a civil suit brought in Los Angeles. The Times says:

A suit in which conspiracy to defraud is charged has been filed by Murphy & Poplin against S. V. Poston, J. S. May, B. J. Miller, M. D. Allen, John K. Knight and J. H. Smith and their wives. Poston and May are the owners of a tract in Riverside county which was exchanged for the walnut orchard owned by William H. and Laura J. Chormicle at Pomona; Miller and Allen are the real estate brokers who negotiated the deal, and the other defendants are involved by an alleged transfer of the deed.

The complaint alleges that Chormicle dealt with Miller and Allen, who offered the Riverside county property, representing, it is alleged, that they had a party who would lend $5000 on it, which was in addition to an encumbrance, a $2000 mortgage. They gave the value of the Riverside property as $9000. The proposition was accepted and the deed placed in escrow. Chormicle later made an investigation and now alleges the value of the land was greatly exaggerated and that a quitclaim deed was made to other defendants practically without consideration. The court is asked to order the property held in trust for Chormicle and his wife and to have it reconveyed to them.

"She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. F., "for a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it is the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping, cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. EDUCATORS TALK ON DRESS OF MEN

Two Los Angeles School Officials Say Art of Dress Necessary and Should be Taught

Los Angeles Examiner: Men should be taught how to dress properly, because it is as necessary to know how to dress as it is to know table manners—and the training should come in the form of giving boys small doses while in school, according to County Superintendent Mark Keppel. Superintendent Keppel yesterday expressed his opinion thus, in speaking of proposed courses that Frenchmen are planning to give in American schools, on the native art of how to dress.

Of course, Superintendent Keppel does not believe that boys should know all the graceful cuts and styles of suits or the best styles of tailoring at the sacrifice of their lessons. He believes that every boy ought to know how to select and wear what is becoming to him.

"Every boy ought to know how to dress properly for the social or business world," said Mr. Keppel yesterday. "It is as important to know how to dress properly as it is to know table manners—and we surely would not want to have children go through life without table manners."

"And this I want clearly understood—Americans dress as well as anybody on the face of the globe. They are not the only ones with the rawhide shoes. There are others who need instruction along this line."

Assistant County Superintendent W. O. Lowe believes that the proper dress should be taught to boys, not in the form of the latest styles, but in neatness of clothes and democracy of dress.

"For example," he said, "the sons of the rich should learn not to wear clothes to 'show off' and excite envy and jealousy among the poor. They should abandon the lavish suit and don the more simple one."

PROSPERITY OVER U. S. AND CANADA

Most Prosperous Country Has Even Known, Says Head of Fruit Growers' Exchange

Los Angeles Tribune: "The United States and Canada, from the Pacific to the Atlantic and from the Gulf of Mexico to the edge of the everlasting northland snows, today is in the most prosperous condition, agriculturally, that this vast territory has ever known. Huge crops of all sorts everywhere have brought broad smiles to the faces of the farmers and fruit growers."

G. Harold Powell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, who returned to Los Angeles yesterday after a 15,000 mile trip, visiting ninety cities of the two countries, made this declaration. His journey occupied two months of steady traveling and was perhaps the most comprehensive trip of the sort ever made. Mr. Powell is peculiarly qualified to estimate conditions because he was for fifteen years employed by the United States government in the Department of Agriculture. He is a statistician of international repute.

"APPEAL TO REASON" EDITOR WILL SPEAK HERE NEXT FRIDAY

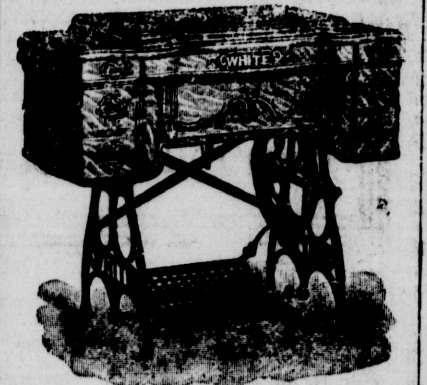

Fred D. Warren, editor of the Appeal to Reason and one of the best known Socialists in the county, is going to speak at Spurgeon's hall at 7:30 o'clock on Friday evening of this week. His subject will be "The Political Revolution of 1912."

Warren gained considerable prominence among Socialists not only as editor but also by reason of the fact that he was prosecuted in the Federal courts and was sentenced to six months in jail and to pay a fine of $1500 for publication of an article in which he offered a reward for "kidnapping" ex-Governor Taylor of Kentucky.

Warren was pardoned by the president of the United States and claims to be the only person who ever returned a pardon to the president. All but $100 of the fine was remitted, but Warren declares that the $100 has never been collected.

Socialists claim for Warren that he is a close student of economic and political affairs, and they assert that he is an able speaker.

SAYS McLAUGHLIN IS IN LOS ANGELES

Fullerton Tribune: A former resident of Fullerton but now engaged in business in Los Angeles, was here on business yesterday. He read the items in the papers about Blacksmith McLaughlin of Fullerton going to one of the beach resorts on a recent Sunday, leaving his clothing in a bath house and disappearing in an attempt, it is claimed, to make his family in Fullerton believe he was drowned while in bathing.

The Los Angeles resident says he saw McLaughlin in Los Angeles on the following Wednesday after the date of his alleged disappearance badly under the influence of liquor and that he has seen him two or three times since.

It will be remembered that McLaughlin left a wife and child in Fullerton in destitute circumstances and that the people a few days ago were asked to assist the little family in a financial way.

THE FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair and Make it Grow

A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden Sage and Sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color, in a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give you money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance. Rowley Drug Company—Advertisement.

WORK HAS BEGUN ON FAIR BUILDINGS

Evidence of Fulfillment of Promise of Completion by June 25, 1914

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Ten huge wagons and auto trucks loaded with lumber, hardware, plumbing fixtures, paints, mill work and other materials to be used in the construction of the Service Building, the first structure to be erected on the Exposition site at Harbor View, paraded the streets of this city last Thursday and aroused the enthusiasm of thousands of citizens who are interested in the 1915 project.

It was the first tangible evidence that work was to begin at once on the Exposition, and bore out the statement made a short time ago by President Charles C. Moore that all the exhibit palaces would be completed by June 25, 1914.

Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana selected a site for his state's participation at the Exposition on Tuesday of last week. Thus far nineteen states have chosen locations for their buildings. Two days later Commissioner Chin-Tao Chen, China-Chun Wang, selected a site for China's participation. The latter ceremony was picturesque and spectacular. Many Chinese residents took part in the exercises. China is the second foreign nation to choose a site.

Portugal has accepted the president's invitation to take part in our Exposition.

Strength

The strength of a banking institution consists not alone in its financial resources but also in the character and ability of its officers and directors and in the confidence and loyalty given it by the community of which it is a part. These banks are pre-eminently strong in ALL respects.

Service

The proper conception of a banking institution's duties and privileges includes service to its community. A bank must pay its stockholders a fair rate of interest in order to secure and hold investments in its stock; but its duty does not end here; it must also render REAL SERVICE to its community in the way of public enterprises and private support. These banks point with pride to their records in these respects.

Solvency

A banking institution to be really and truly solvent must have more and other assets than merely money and credits in excess of its money liabilities. It must have a surplus of character, a reserve fund of reputation, a credit balance of experience, large and moral resources. These banks invite examination as to their moral solvency.

GET OUT AND VOTE

About one-fourth of our citizens are indifferent to the freedom bought with a price. They won't spend fifteen minutes to help keep the government what it was intended to be.

It is worse than that, for another fourth only bother to vote on presidential year, and won't stir themselves to see that city and state governments are likewise maintained in accordance with the principles of freedom and equality.

Our political battles are dramatic. The conflict that has waged in this country this year is a veritable clash of Titans. Col. Roosevelt's phrase, "We stand at Armageddon and we battle for the Lord" is a true picture of every man who stands in his boots and votes or speaks according to an honest conviction.

One would think that a man with any spirit, with any lust of battle in his heart, any admiration for manly hearts engaged in the shock of struggle, would be standing on his tip toes to watch so thrilling a combat, if indeed he can refrain from casting himself into the fray to give and take with other foemen.

"We are living, we are dwelling.

In a grand and awful time." Thus wrote an old hymn writer. "This true. Old systems of thought are falling into decay, man is arising to grasp his heritage. Yet in all this clash and conflict and upheaval, many of us on election day will stand asleep at our civic post, fumbling our greasy dollars all day, too selfish to walk down to the polls, and play our parts like men.

EPIDEMIC DISEASES AND PUBLICITY

Communities in which epidemic diseases prevail sometimes attempt to conceal the facts. This short-sighted policy is adopted under the erroneous idea that concealment will do the community no harm and will prevent damage to business and other interests, but that knowledge of an epidemic will reflect on the community in various injurious ways. Buffalo and Los Angeles, during the past summer, have had epidemics of poliomyelitis; notwithstanding the unsatisfactory experience of San Francisco a few years ago in regard to the concealment of plague, a few misguided business men, politicians, and, unfortunately, a few physicians, opposed the efforts of the health departments in promptly suppressing the epidemic, wishing to resort to the old exploded method of concealment of conditions. Concerning this, Public Health Reports of September 20 has the following comment:

"During the course of the outbreak in both Los Angeles and Buffalo there was an effort on the part of certain residents to belittle the importance of the epidemics and the active measures being taken by the health departments, with especial reference to the publicity being given regarding the presence of the disease and the number of cases occurring. However, in neither case did this prove a material embarrassment to

Railroad Commission Has Done Good Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—"The cry against the Johnson administration when the bill creating the new railroad commission was in process of enactment was that it was driving L. Donohoe of Willows, Glenn county. It is now demonstrated that the Railroad Commission has made the state one of the most attractive fields for investment in the union.

"The fact is that since the commission has placed its safeguards around California securities they are more salable and bring better prices than they ever did before.

"My experience is that an element of San Francisco business men is disposed to be unfair and unjust toward Governor Johnson. Members of a leading bond and securities brokerage firm belong to the element that is viciously assailing the Governor, and yet this firm has been able to enjoy a high prosperity because of the wise and beneficent regulation of public utilities the Johnson administration brought about.

"By reason of the statement in offerings of securities that they have been approved by the Railroad Commission they find a ready sale. The policies of California regulation give a safety and stability to investments so that it is now easier to get capital the health authorities, who received the earnest support of both the practicing physicians and the citizens in general.

"The impression that publicity regarding such matters injures municipal interests is based on a fallacy. The existence of an epidemic cannot be concealed very long, and the absence of frankness in regard to the situation under these conditions produces a fear and suspicion that it takes some time to overcome.

"There is nothing that inspires so much confidence in the ability of a community to cope with a sanitary problem as frankness and honesty at all times in stating existing conditions. It shows that the community has the situation in hand and that it has sufficient confidence not to be afraid to inform others as to what is going on. The ethics of concealment of epidemic conditions is of course indefensible."

Orange county cannot afford to let San Diego carry out its "pork barrel" scheme. San Diego's big interests refuse to support any candidate for congress who does not live in San Diego. That means that San Diego's big interests demand that the congressman serve San Diego, not Orange, Riverside and the other counties of the district. Orange county wants a congressman who will play no favorites. S. C. Evans is that kind of a man.

The Progressive party has a wonderful candidate for vice-president. The man who put the Southern Pacific out of California's politics could do some things worth while even in the vice-presidency.

Vote No on the race track gambling amendment. It is seventh on the ballot. Vote No on that amendment, for it is aimed to open up racetrack gambling.

for California enterprises than it ever was before. This firm I speak of does a flourishing business, as a result of this great achievement of the Johnson administration. And yet these beneficiaries, who find that business is best when it is held down to honest and legitimate lines, are against Johnson. I do not believe that business men are the most unthinking people we have.

"This Railroad Commission has saved millions of dollars to the farmers of the state in making fair adjustments in rates. It has compelled the railroads to be fair. There has never been a more splendid achievement for the welfare of a people than the regulation of public utilities established by Governor Johnson—the Progressive movement in California.

"Besides framing a good law, there was a fine wisdom in the selection of the members of the commission to apply it. We are having a singularly able and effective administration of the law.

"We have been interested at Willows in projecting an elective railroad and we know what a boon the Railroad Commission proves itself to be for the development of the country. It has also been brought home to the people of the state what relief from unreasonable freight rates means."

CATECHISM FOR VOTERS OF ORANGE CO.

Question—When and by whom was the Republican party wrecked nationally?

Answer—By the reactionary Republicans in Chicago in June, 1912.

Q.—What was the inevitable result?

A.—The organization of a Progressive party nationally.

Q.—By whom is the Progressive party nationally, being supported?

A.—By the loyal Progressive Republicans of the nation who wish to perpetuate the best principles of that party including protection to American labor, American products, and American industries.

Q.—Why are there no Taft electors on the ballot in the Republican column?

A.—Because the Supreme Court of the State of California decided that they could not be put there legally.

Q.—WHY DID NOT THE REACTIONARIES PUT THE TAFT ELECTORS ON THE BALLOT BY PETITION AS DID THE PROGRESSIVES, IF THEY ARE AS LOYAL TO HIM AS THEY PROFESS?

A.—You will have to go to the Reactionaries for the answer to this question, but it is the belief of the Progressive Republicans that they were afraid to show Taft's weakness, in California, and also to give them an excuse to desert to the enemy, the Free Trade Democrats. They, the Reactionaries, have raised the cry that the Progressive Republicans stole the name Republican, when the facts are, and the records will show that the Progressive faction in the Republican party of California largely outnumber the Reactionaries and therefore could not steal a thing that was of right their own.

Voters of Orange county, especially you whose first choice for president was William Howard Taft, from the above showing, there is no real reason for you to desert the Republican principles, and vote for tariff-for-revenue-only Wilson, as you are urged to do by persons we believe are wrongfully claiming to be loyal Republicans.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

BARACAS HAD GOOD TIME

Miss Sarah Gardner Was Hostess to Young Men—European Tour Was Topic

The members of the Baraca Class of the First Methodist church held their regular monthly business meeting and social last night at the home of their teacher, Miss Sarah Gardner on Washington avenue. There was a good representation of the membership of the class present. The meeting was called to order about 8 o'clock by "the president of the class, Floyd Geyer. Much important business was discussed and transacted; among other things several affairs in the coming few months were planned, the first one to be held about the middle of the coming month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coleman. After the business meeting had transacted all necessary business, it was adjourned until the next regular business meeting in November.

Following the business session a pleasant social time was had. Mr. Charles Robinson, who spent the summer touring Europe, entertained the company with a most interesting account of some of the places he visited during his trip. His stories and descriptions were the more interesting on account of the fact that he had a large collection of views of the various places mentioned.

An adjournment was then in order to the dining room, where refreshments of chocolate and cake of various kinds were much enjoyed. During supper and for a short time afterwards, the old-time custom of the Baraca Class of story telling was indulged in, to the entertainment and merriment of the listeners.

Maccabee Jollification

E. L. Bumpus, Maccabee Deputy Grand Commander, returning from a visit to San Diego on Monday night announced that there is a probability of a three-cornered membership contest among the tents of the district to which this tent belongs, with a valuable prize offered as a trophy of triumph. The announcement lent interest to the business session, and at the conclusion of the session the members enjoyed an oyster supper with accessories. After dinner speeches followed with Messrs. Bumpus, Winbiger, Dyer, Clayton, Jackson of Santa Ana.

We have finest sunny office or studio room in the city for rent, the one now occupied by Mr. Babize, fronting on corner of Fifth and Main streets. Apply at once.

FOR MISS GLADYS HARRISON

Guild Girls Entertain in Her Honor; Kitchen Shower—Dinner at Anaheim

Miss Gladys Harrison was again the central figure of a pretty pre-nuptial function last night, when she was the honoree of a surprise kitchen shower given at the residence of Miss Emma Kryhl by the girls of St. Elizabeth's Guild of the Church of the Messiah. Miss Harrison was completely surprised when, during a call at the Kryhl home in company with Miss Cubbon, the guild girls arrived all together with a merry rush.

A clever stunt of the evening was an illustrated history of Miss Gladys' past, present and future, compiled by each guest from a goodly pile of magazines. The scissors were kept busy, and the illustrations were pasted on a large red heart given to each girl. These made a unique collection that was passed over to Miss Gladys for future reference, after Miss Alice Parker had read the various histories for the edification of the company.

Then followed the shower. Lights were turned out and Miss Gladys, with a single candle and a collection of cards, each one telling where a certain gift was hidden, made a strenuous search from garret to cellar, front door to back yard to win her prizes. But she was well rewarded, kitchen conveniences of bewildering variety being discovered in the most unlikely places. Then followed a delicious bit of surprise. A set of solid silver teaspoons were presented her from the guild by the president, Miss Besser.

Refreshments of delicate fruit salad with heart-shaped wafers, chocolate and cake and heart-shaped mints furnished an opportunity for a rest from the various surprises of the evening as well as a hospitable close of the event.

The company consisted of Misses Gladys Harrison, Alice Parker, Barrett, Harriett Wollaston, Rosenbaum, Hazel Rosenbaum, St. Clair, Catherine Cubbon, Margaret Orr, Elsie Harrison, Minnie Besser, Pearl Thompson, Kryhl; Mesdames Harrison, Chase, Kryhl and Besser.

Another pleasant courtesy for Miss Harrison was a dinner given by Miss Minna Smith at her Anaheim home last Saturday night. It was a small but delightfully arranged affair, the dinner appointments and decorations being unique and interesting.

Covers were laid for the hostess, Miss Smith; the honoree, Miss Harrison; Mesdames Cubbon and Rosenbaum; Edna Robbins of Santa Ana; Dr. Menges and Clarence Skiles of Santa Ana and Robert Johnson and Wayne Smith of Anaheim.

Mrs. Herbert Wakeham and Mrs. R. H. English, acting as hostesses for the Woman's Guild of the Church of the Messiah, are to give a Halloween Tea at the home of Mrs. English, 108 South Main street, tomorrow afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend this tea. Light refreshments will be served. The receipts from the silver offering will go to swell the Guild Hall fund.

Birthday Party
Miss Alice Robinson was delightfully surprised last night by a party party, who presented her with a handsome White rotary sewing machine. The guests took with them some Halloween pumpkin pies that were eaten with hot coffee.

Miss Hester Robinson entertained the party with readings. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fine and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. F. Waite, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Young, Mrs. Olive Lopez and family, Mrs. Louise Waite.

Whist Party
Mrs. Verne Whitson was hostess last night at a very pretty whist party, entertaining about fifty friends. Chrysanthemums were used in decorations, making the lovely home still more attractive.

Y. M. C. A. TEAM TOO FAST FOR P. O. MEN

A basketball game was played last night on the Armory athletic field, between teams of the local Y.M.C.A. athletic committee and the postoffice, resulting in a victory for the Y.M.C.A. team.

Although the men of the postoffice team were practically novices at the game, they played a good game against their stronger and faster opponents. There was a good crowd out to witness the game and all showed splendid spirit and enthusiasm.

There will be another game played on the same grounds on next Saturday night between a team of the business men of the Y.M.C.A. and a high school aggregation.

Anyone connected with the Y.M.C.A. who can get up a team to play, should see R. G. Miles.

CLUB WOMEN ENTERTAINED

Orange County Federated Clubs Had All Day Meeting of Importance

A meeting of great importance to the club interests of Orange County took place yesterday in this city when the Woman's Club of Santa Ana acted as hostess to the clubs of this county which are members of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. The meeting was attended by the most representative club women of the county.

One of the most promising features of yesterday's convocation was the movement begun for the formation of a county federation of clubs. The project was unanimously favored by the assemblage and plans will soon be put in operation for its consummation. A called meeting will doubtless be held in the early future for organization.

Among those present yesterday were white-haired grandmothers, young maids, youthful mothers, genteel-faced aunts and the middle-aged matrons. All were enthusiastic with the whole-souled enthusiasm for better things that is leading women into the full development of citizenship. All were interested in one great purpose, a fuller knowledge of humanity's needs and a greater knowledge of laws in order to help one another and humanity in general. These were all keenly alive to the fact that united strength is the most powerful.

Getting Acquainted

The women from over the county gathered in beautiful Birch Park in the forenoon greeting and meeting each other in the fellowship of a common purpose. At noon they adjourned to the Armory where they enjoyed the delights of a real picnic spread in the spacious drill room, the women being seated in groups at small tables. The members of the Woman's Club, as hostesses, dispensed aromatic hot coffee and the visiting delegations unpacked their well-filled lunch baskets, bringing forth substantial and delicacies galore. Many pleasant friendships were formed over the discussion of the luncheon which was prolonged because of its genial sociable pleasures.

The Afternoon's Business

The afternoon session was opened by a short musical program, both vocal and instrumental numbers being rendered. Those giving vocal selections were Mrs. Theo. Winbiger and Mrs. Carl Strock; Miss Isabel Anderson of Santa Ana, Miss Eunice Orison of Ohio and Mrs. Quinn of Newport Beach each favored the audience with piano numbers. A happy address of welcome was then given by Mrs. Anna Gale, president of the Santa Ana Woman's Club. The secretary, Mrs. B. Uttley, of the hostess club, gave a report showing that nine clubs of Orange county were represented. An official from each club gave an interesting report of the work being done by her organization along educational, civic and political lines. The various reports of the clubs given yesterday showed that the clubwomen are a force stronger than the law. They are moulders of public opinion and are deeply interested in the welfare of the city, state and nation. They study the issues in every case and then stand back of the principle involved regardless of party lines.

Public Measures Discussed

Following the reports, the various amendments to the state constitution were discussed, among them being the free text-book amendment which to the members of the clubs present seemed like a "graft" proposition. It was not endorsed by the club women. The next matter to be discussed was that of the good roads bonds to be voted on next Monday. The bonds were favored in a full and free discussion.

County Club Federation

The matter of organizing a county federation of women's clubs was unanimously approved and plans will soon be undertaken for this purpose. The Santa Ana clubs represented yesterday were the Ebell Society, with a membership of 360, Mrs. J. W. Bishop, president; the Woman's Club, membership, 40, Mrs. Anna Gale, president; and the Civics Club, with 100 members, Mrs. A. J. Lawton, president. Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Lawton made excellent addresses. Mrs. Bishop said the Ebell was particularly interested in household economics this year. Mrs. Lawton pleaded that every woman voter of Santa Ana belong to the Civics Club. There are 1500 registered women voters. Other out of town members made excellent addresses. Mrs. Quinn of the East Newport Club, giving valuable information.

Halloween Games

Apple-Pip Test—Upon slips of white paper, using milk for your ink, prepare a list for each guest, thus: Two, an early marriage. Three, a legacy. Four, vast riches. Five, an ocean voyage. Six, great fame as singer or orator.

Seven, possession of any gift most desired by finder.

Also provide each guest with a rosy apple, which is to be cut open and the seeds counted. Then, over the lamp, let each one hold his apparently blank slip until the heat browns it and yields up his destiny, which he must make known to all, basing it upon the number of seeds contained in his apple and comparing this number with the lists brought to view by the heat of the lamp.

Blind Nut-Seekers—Hide nuts in every imaginable part of the room or house. Let all the nuts but one be of the same kind. Blindfold the guests, and let them search. Let the one who finds the greatest number receive a tiny Jack-o-lantern made from a small pumpkin scraped out, with eyes, nose and mouth cut in it, and containing a lighted candle.

The one finding the odd nut may pay some simple forfeit indicated by the hostess.

ARE TO RACE MOTORCYCLES

Speedy Machines Will be on Local Track in Events on Thanksgiving

The speed lovers of Santa Ana and vicinity will have a chance to enjoy an afternoon of motorcycle racing on Thanksgiving Day. There will be plenty of contests held and the management says that all speed laws will be broken at the Santa Ana race track on this particular day, which means that it should be an afternoon of fast and lively sport. There has been a good card of events arranged for the afternoon.

There will be a speed trial by "Blue" mercer car, which will be worth seeing itself.

They are working to get some of the fast goers from the city down, and with the crack riders of Orange county ready to enter there will be some fast traveling, as there is an intense rivalry between the Orange county boys and those from the city. There will probably be a trial to beat the local track record, held by the excelsior, which machine claims that it will be out to defend its honors against all comers.

The Flying Morkle, the Harley-Davidson and Indian machines will all be up and going, and all machines should be able to take a slice from the record.

The various machine owners have a grudge against each other, and they will fight it out on Thanksgiving Day.

CHURCH CONSERVATION

By LOU P. HICKOX

Paper Read to the Present Day Club of Santa Ana.

The word conservation is written large across the page of all recent economic discussion. The message it bears is full of human interest, and the lessons it teaches apply to all departments of our social life. The principles it involves are deeper than rivers and harbors and lands and forests; they possess values that the dollar sign alone cannot express. The burden of its appeal is social righteousness, and the language of its gospel is charged with words of hope.

Waste in America

The seemingly unlimited amount of free land and the wonderful abundance of the natural resources of our great domain led our people to indulge in wasteful extravagances and fostered improvident habits, which have manifested themselves in all departments of our social structure.

An ever open way to the verdant fields of the West emboldened men to hazard their all in venturesome speculation. A proud confidence in the inexhaustibility of our natural resources encouraged careless methods in the distribution of government lands, and a corresponding carelessness followed in the handling of all forms of public and community property. "There is enough for all—take all you want," was the idea that bred indifference to waste. This notion obtained from Washington to the remotest frontier and permeated every strata of society. Its influence has shaped the structure of our institutions and dominated our social and political life. Secure in the pride of wealth our people rushed hither and yon, taking what was easiest to reach—tearing off or uprooting that which was easiest turned into gold, while their careless feet ruthlessly trod upon and destroyed that which did not promise immediate wealth.

Warnings

Here and there men arose to decry this waste and destruction. Statesmen and savants of older civilizations sounded warnings of danger—yet for generations the devastation continued.

Men of long vision looked into the future and declared that they saw our country fast approaching the condition of the old world, and that unless our prodigal waste were checked we would soon be face to face with the economic problems of Europe.

A Complacent Public

Exploitation by private individuals and great corporations alike continued, while a complacent public viewed their audacity with wondering admiration.

The quest of immediate wealth even at the expense of future generations bred a policy of expediency in the American system which has clouded our economic consciousness.

The New Movement

The conservation movement came in response to a national economic need. Executive efficiency, elimination of waste and intensive cultivation represent different phases of the movement.

With the development of the conservation idea began the growth of a new economic consciousness. Starting with the notion of preserving the natural resources of a great nation from wanton destruction by one generation that future generations might enjoy their rightful heritage, and of restraining the powerful few from taking for their own use that which belonged to the whole people, the idea has ramified throughout the whole economic field, and includes our institutional with our industrial systems.

The principles which it involves have come to be recognized as applicable to all forms of property management and the adoptions of these principles by our institutions is essential to their continued prosperity.

Readjustments

In adopting these principles our institutions must face the consequences attending any reconstruction. Readjustment to meet new conditions and the employment of new methods generally entail personal hardship and much apparent loss. The abandonment of out-of-date machinery causes heart pang and the adoption of new methods requires time spent in special training. Notwithstanding the hardships attending our recent industrial reconstruction the benefits which have resulted show it to have been worth while.

The lessons which this reconstruction taught will aid in the larger reconstruction which is available in the life of our institutions.

That our institutions which lie closest to the heart of the race should be the last to respond to the new movement is the phenomenon most puzzling to the casual observer. Our courts, our schools and our churches find it difficult to alter their ponderous machinery to meet the changing needs of the times. The herald of scientific management finds thorny hedges of tradition and barred gates of precedent in the path.

The customs and interests of the people are changing and the worn out machinery of our institutions is not supplying the new needs. The injection of ethical considerations into economic discussions is adding complications to the problem.

The failure of our institutions to respond more promptly to the new movement may be due in part to a narrowness of view held by the constituted authorities. They do not grasp the idea that the economic adjustment now taking place is really a cosmic process working out a great moral law. An adequate comprehension of the unity of life has not been reached. The sense of justice which can recognize the identity of principle in the working of moral and economic law seems to be lacking.

That spiritual values can be rendered in economic terms is one of the lessons of the new teaching, which, when rightly understood will transform the religious life of our people.

The world wide demand for a horizontal vision through the institutions which administer the affairs of society is being met in this latter day, and the inefficiency and waste which this view reveals has inspired men to new efforts of reconstruction; these efforts are bearing fruit in a new attitude toward the administration of property by our institutions, which promises hope for the future.

Money and energy given by the people for the development of moral values and the establishment of justice is being largely dissipated in the process. The neglect of the institutions administering these affairs to adopt the new methods being used by the large business interests for the purpose of eliminating this sort of waste, is assuming the aspect of moral neglect. Men who today are directing our great industries for purely selfish purposes have shaped the keys with which our institutions may unlock their doors to the onward march of progress. Starting with motives of gain our great captains of industry have developed a system possessing moral potentialities of which they little dreamed.

Now that their applicability to the larger uses of society is being understood the next logical step is to make the application.

Property

Property is defined by Webster as "that to which a person has a legal title, whether in his possession or not; an estate, whether in lands, goods or money."

I believe it will be conceded that property values of whatever kind represent in the final analysis nothing more nor less than stored energy; and that the measure of these values is determined by consensus of opinion based on human need.

Now if property or energy (and by energy I mean purposive exertion) is wasted or misused a breach of economic law takes place involving moral consequences. If property held in trust is misused the trustee is responsible for the loss which takes place while the property is in his hands. If money is invested by a trustee for the purpose of bringing definite returns to his clients, and this purpose is not accomplished through neglect or inability on the part of the trustee which might have been averted by proper diligence on his part, he would be liable to the accusation of moral turpitude.

It is this phase of trusteeship as related to the church of today that I shall attempt to discuss in this paper.

The Church's Mission

The avowed mission of the church is the Christianization of the world. Her aim therefore should be the earliest possible fulfillment of this mission. She should avail herself of every means that would expedite her work, and lay aside every burden that would retard her progress.

An examination of the business methods of the church would lead one to the conclusion that the consummation of her purpose would be long delayed if it depended largely on the type of efficiency displayed. Divine providence must intervene and take the work out of her hands else the "great day" will be a long time coming.

The struggle for strategic advantages—the competition in entertainment and social features—the effort to maintain prestige—all levy a heavy and burdensome tax on denominational life.

Each denomination seeks representation wherever there seems to be an opening. The home missionary of the denomination is "Johnny on the spot" to secure a good location for his particular church before the town site has been thrown upon the market. The fact that every prominent denomination is represented in almost every town and hamlet in our broad land causes a duplication of church plants out of all proportion to the religious needs of the people.

This situation does not appear as an anomaly in economics to those who are zealous in extending their denominational lines in new territory. Nor do they stop with planting churches in new territory. No matter how crowded the field may be, if a handful of followers of some particular denominational persuasion, not represented by a church house, happens to reside in the town, some zealous home missionary will see the necessity of perpetuating the faith of his fathers in this particular hamlet, and some morning the people will wake up and see a new church going up in their midst. The idea seems to prevail that the big city church of any certain denomination needs the smaller churches in the outlying territory as feeders for their membership and that no matter what it costs, the system must be kept up. It is difficult to avoid the suspicion that denominational pride is not in part responsible for this rivalry in new fields.

Denominational lines mark the differences of ecclesiastical opinions held by men during the middle ages. The persistence of denominationalism means that the maintenance of the particular doctrines and traditions spring from these ancient considerations. That this condition is responsible for much inefficiency and indifference to results is recognized by many students of social and industrial conditions who have investigated the work of the church among the immigrants. Mr. Leroy Hodges, former commissioner of immigration of the Southern Commercial Congress, writing in the "Missionary Review of the World" for March 1912, concerning the church and the immigrant, says:

"Some Protestant church publications have created the impression that the wants of the immigrants in this country are being ministered to, and that the churches are caring for this people. The Protestant churches are doing no such thing; and the full realization of this should be brought home to those members who, in the sincere belief that they are aiding in bettering home conditions, are annually contributing to a work the results of which are to be found only on paper. Instead of exerting an influence to break down the barriers of racial antipathy, the Protestant churches have usually adopted either an attitude of superiority toward the recent immigrants or one of indifference, and have built up a caste of distinction."

"Another reason why so little has been accomplished by the churches is that sectarianism has displaced the welfare of humanity as the goal."

"The American churches, both Papal and Protestant, are allowing the immigrants to work out their own adjustment to American conditions and ideals with nothing but the ancient traditions of Europe to show them the way. Can we wonder why the immigrants are slow to understand the duties of American citizenship?"

"The churches must overlook minor differences and meet on a common ground to work for the betterment of the immigrants if any lasting results are to be accomplished. Protestant and Roman Catholic congregations must shoulder the burden together, and work, not for their respective creeds, but for the great cause of Christ."

Mr. Hodges is but one of many who sees in sectarianism a weakness in understanding this one special obligation which rests upon the church in America.

Whenever the church attempts a work touching a large class outside its own ranks sectarian zeal is liable to overlook the larger good.

Why this zeal in maintaining denominational integrity? The question is: are those doctrinal distinctions worthy of the energy expended in their maintenance? Does not the necessity of the times impose a more catholic burden on the shoulders of the church?

Human intelligence has progressed to a point where it feels little interest in creed or dogma, but is profoundly moved by such great fundamental truths as those uttered in the Sermon on the Mount. Men see divine forces operating through social laws and are more willing to expend their energy in helping to right social and economic injustice than they are in upholding any established order. Los Angeles County Carrying on Prosecution—This County Interested

Joseph Dierksen of Fullerton stands a big chance of going to San Quentin. Today he appears in the Justice's court in Los Angeles for a preliminary examination on a charge of passing a bogus check in Los Angeles. A few days ago it was thought that Dierksen's relatives had paid all the bad checks off, and that he would not be prosecuted in Los Angeles. Dierksen is under probation from this county, with a seven-year sentence to San Quentin hanging over him. He did not keep his parole, and that the officers of this county expect to keep him to the contract was indicated yesterday when Probation Officer Scott went to Los Angeles to look into the matter. Just what course will be pursued has not been determined. It may be decided to allow Los Angeles to go ahead, and deal with the case in the superior court there. Again, it may be decided to wait until after the evidence is taken at the preliminary today, and then bring him back here to face Judge West for having broken his parole.

LIQUOR CASE SET FOR TRIAL NOV. 12

Charge of Peace Disturbance Against Cypress Farmer Was Dismissed Today

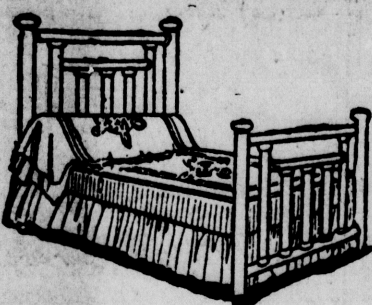

This morning L. Peterson, a restaurant man of Irena, appeared in Justice Cox's court, and his trial was set for November 12.

Peterson's restaurant was raided Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff Squires and Boynton and Constable Heard, and a large quantity of beer was taken from a small room in which it is alleged Peterson was conducting a good-sized live blind pig. Peterson is out on $250 bail.

Case Dismissed
The charge of peace disturbance against August Vaukhauer, a Cypress farmer, was dismissed today. The man has been in jail for two weeks awaiting trial. This morning it was found that a continuance would be necessary and rather than compel the man to stay in jail longer awaiting trial, the authorities agreed to the dismissal of the case. The man has been in trouble at Cypress before. Justice Cox admonished him to behave himself.

ENTHUSIASM FOR Y.M.C.A.

Anaheim Association Will Begin Work on New Building at Once

ANAHEIM, Oct. 30.—The members of the Young Men's Christian Association met yesterday evening in the Board of Trade rooms in the Anaheim public library. President L. O. Culp opened the conference with a few remarks on the purpose of the meeting. County Secretary R. J. Hamilton explained the amendment to the constitution that was adopted by the representative members in the meeting held on the 21st inst., with regard to the board of directors and the young men's cabinet. He suggested that the boys and young men of the association, as members of the cabinet, be held responsible, as well as the older members and directors, for the conduct of the members in and about the building and grounds, and for the administration also.

The nominating committee appointed at the last meeting reported the following as their nominees for the directorate: Charles Eygabroad, Dr. H. A. Johnston, L. A. Evans, Chris H. Worsley, L. C. Yoeman, A. A. Mills, D. A. Wedel, L. O. Culp and William McLaughlin. The report was adopted unanimously, making the above named men the directors of the Anaheim Y.M.C.A. The young men's cabinet will be selected by the directors at some future date.

S. C. Hartranft made a few remarks on the young men's cabinet. He seemed to voice the opinion of the assembly when he said that the boys should do the work while the older men gave them counsel. W. M. Wickett added that the all-round development of the boy should be given careful attention by those in authority.

William McLaughlin, in behalf of the building committee, reported that Mr. Eygabroad and Mr. Lagman, the architect, had practically agreed on the plans, although some minor changes have been suggested as to the equipment. Work on the foundation will be started immediately, and the building erected as the subscriptions pledged are collected. A campaign for more donations will be started soon, so that the building may be finished before the holidays.

W. E. Duckworth told of some of his experiences, on his recent visit to Honolulu, in the association there. He says that that association has a membership of 1200 men of fifteen different nationalities. They have a building that cost $250,000, the money for which was raised in a campaign of only two days. He emphasized the need of trained young men for the work there. Twenty, he says, could be used at once. He was entertained at the Y.M.C.A. in Honolulu and became much interested in the work. His talk was very interesting and was loudly applauded.

President Culp spoke on the idea of a plunge for the members. The only obstacle, he says, is the lack of money. As soon as the building is finished a campaign will probably be made for money with which a plunge could be built. Mr. McLaughlin also emphasized the pressure for more money, stating that he saw no objection to maintaining a plunge.

Prof. Lent announced a meeting of the boys who signed up for the Bible class, on next Friday evening at the Methodist church.

A favorable financial report, the meeting was adjourned. The Y.M.C.A. affairs have experienced a turn in sentiment lately. When the meetings were held several years ago the older men ran the association almost entirely because there was no interest among the boys. A new spirit has taken hold now, spurring the boys on to demand action of the men. The merchants and residents realize that a change of heart has taken place, and are showing their willingness to support the boys by their interest in the association affairs, and by digging down in their pockets for the much needed money.

ETHEL HALL QUEEN OF SMUGGLERS GOES FREE—ILL HEALTH

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—Ethel Hall, known to boatmen from Ensenada to San Francisco, yesterday entered a plea of guilty to an indictment charging her jointly with others with smuggling Chinese coolies into the United States from Mexico. This young woman whose bewildering ingenuity and original methods baffled immigration officers for years and who is charged with hatching a plot in the county jail while awaiting trial on a smuggling charge, left the court room yesterday unrestrained for the first time in eleven months.

Mrs. Hall as a result of her confinement of eleven months in the county jail is a physical wreck. Judge Wellborn was informed, and the court, upon the entering of a plea of guilty fined the pale defendant $10. Eleven months is within a few weeks of the maximum sentence provided by law, and the court taking this into consideration ordered that she be released. No alternative sentence was provided for failure to pay the fine. Mrs. Hall was released upon her own recognizance upon the other indictments, but the government through Assistant U. S. District Attorney Dudley W. Robinson intimated that the would not be prosecuted further.

RANCHER DEAD FROM INJURIES

Accident in Which Man Was Thrown From Runaway Rig Has Fatal Ending

Fullerton Tribune: Following injuries received in a runaway about a week ago, Mortimer L. Gillett, a leading rancher of Yorba Linda, died Saturday evening while being brought to the Fullerton hospital for an operation.

Mr. Gillett was driving two horses, which became frightened and uncontrollable. In the runaway Mr. Gillett was thrown out and suffered internal injuries, but it was not thought necessarily fatal at the time.

He was taken to his home, where he lingered in serious condition for several days. It was decided to bring him to the hospital, but death came during the trip and the body was taken to Seale's parlors awaiting funeral arrangements.

The immediate cause of death was a ruptured intestine. Mr. Gillett was 43 years of age, a native of Ohio, and leaves a widow. He owned a beautiful home in the Yorba Linda country. The funeral was held Monday at the Friends' church in Yorba Linda and the body was sent to Ohio for interment. He had lived in California for six years.

Mr. Gillett had many friends in this part of the county and his sudden demise while enjoying much prosperity was quite a shock to them.
